

S. No.	Criteria	Good	Average	Can do better
1	User Requirements	Students have identified and understood the problem statement. Students have identified functional and non-functional requirements of the application . Limitations of the system are understood. User groups and users of the application have been identified.	Students did not identify the problem statement precisely. Students did not identify the Functional and non-functional requirements precisely. Limitations of the system are not identified precisely. Not all user groups and users have been identified.	No problem statement No functional and non-functional requirements stated. Limitations of the system are not stated No user groups and users identified.
2	Video	The proposed solution adequately addresses the problem statement.	The proposed solution addresses a few areas of the problem statement	The proposed solution addresses very few areas the problem statement